Dear Mr. Muckelroy,

In response to the notice of violation dated June 24, 1991, Rinchem Company, Inc. would like to respond as follows:

The inspection sheet was signed by the inspector and his supervisor and they both concur that the inspection was done. The previous week and the following week were filled out properly, therefore we feel the operation of the warehouse was safe. Copies of each persons recollection of the incident are enclosed.

As per our conversation with Ernest Presiado on July 2, 1991 we have filled in the appropriate boxes on the report and enclose a copy of the corrected report. Rinchem is exploring other steps to prevent this from happening in the future.

We Care,

SUBJECT: WEEKLY INSPECTION REPORT

06/08/91 On this date I did the weekly inspection, but I did not check the boxes on the sheet. Chuck Smith signed off and did not realize this. Inspections prior to and after were done correctly. I feel this was a one time mistake.

Neil Day preformed the inspection I verified the check marks.
The inspection was done. The inspection sheets before and after would indicate this. In the future I will check the sheets closer.
