Subject: Closure estimate

Stacie, this request turned unexpectedly frustrating, because costs vary wildly for disposal of some wastes, particularly the P and U codes, which have to be incinerated.

Without us investing in lots of time, I can give you the following, which are pretty realistic:

Drums for incineration: $200 to $500each, plus $75 per-drum for trucking. P and U codes $500 for sure. This, flammable liquids with F codes would be cheapest. Possibly under $200 each but only with very high-BTU and no solids. That is why estimating is difficult. Each disposal site has its own list of condition for which they will up-charge waste shippers.

Totes for incineration: $500 to $2,000, plus $200 each at least for trucking.

The point is, the low figure you gave me, of about $135 per drum is completely unreasonable.

Sincerely,

Mark Crane
