Dear Ms. Lacombe:

This is to follow-up on our conversation of today and formally advise you that DOE's letter of February 14, 1989 has been received and referred to the Office of General Counsel (OGC) for final review. Pending this review, Los Alamos National Laboratory (LANL) is advised that the interpretation made by LANL may not be consistent with the regulations. Therefore, the use of the Batch Treatment System and the Industrial Wastewater Treatment System if operated as described may be in violation of the Hazardous Waste Management Regulations.

LANL will be notified following OGC review.

Sincerely,

Boyd Hamilton
