U.S. Department of Energy and Los Alamos National Laboratory representatives will provide an update of last summer's environmental restoration activities and a presentation of upcoming projects for two existing Laboratory operations areas on Department of Energy (DOE) property. Plans for a new facility to store mixed waste will also be discussed.

You are invited to examine displays and associated materials and to talk one-on-one with DOE and Laboratory representatives both before and after a brief presentation, which begins at 7 p.m.
