Dear Ms. Rogers:

Thank you for your letter of August 24, 1989, in which you offer your expertise in the Los Alamos National Laboratory (LANL) investigation.

The permit for LANL has been proposed under authority of the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA). The intent of RCRA is that viable facilities carry the burden for financing investigations and cleanup of contamination.

We fully intend for LANL to supply timely and quality environmental information as will be required by any RCRA permit which is issued to LANL.

Sincerely yours,

William Gallagher, Chief
RCRA Permits Branch
