The tank that the product line is connected to is Tank 567 and it's a 20,000 gal steel tank. Bill Bailey is going to send more information and a map when he sends in the C-141 form for spill report.

Kristin, et. Al,

Bill Bailey of Western Refining called on 27 March 2017 to report release of what is estimated at "less than five (5) barrels" of naphtha, which occurred on 26 March 2017 at their refinery near Gallup, NM. Coordinates of spill are 35.489 , -108.428

His number is 505-726-9743.

The spill occurred while off-loading fuel tank trucks but was due to a flow-line backup in one of the ASTs with dimensions of 60' in diameter and 40' tall. [back of the napkin, that's about a 60,000-gallon tank, I think.] It was contained on their property but not within secondary containment. No waterway was affected. 5-day report to come, so as to update facts. Also, they are filling out a C-141 form and getting in touch with OCD.

CTI is the remediation firm who is on the scene.

Cheers!
Stephen
